This Week at CPC

Dear Christ Pacific Church,

She introduced us to social media as a ministry tool. She played a key role in initiating the 2017 Women's Retreat. She envisioned, planned and executed the Women's Refresh event this April. She helped refresh our Junior High Student environment in Dock A (you should go check it out!). She led our Junior High students into mission in Phoenix. She taught our Junior High students the books of the Bible using plastic cups. She co-created Lift – a prayer partnership between adults and students. She led life-changing summer and winter camping experiences for our Junior High students.

These are just some highlights of the ways in which Rebeccah McCully has served Christ Pacific with so much heart these last two years as our Junior High Minister. It has been a privilege to have her, and now we must say good-bye. Rebeccah has decided to conclude her ministry among us on July 15 in order to pursue certification as a counselor and pursue that vocational pathway. I will miss the unique gifts and heart Rebecca has brought to the table, and I am excited for the ways in which God will continue to use her to speak gospel-truth and gospel-love into the lives of young people.

Please join me in saying thank you to Rebecca for the ways in which she shepherded our Junior High students to become disciples of the Good Shepherd, Jesus. We will be celebrating Rebecca at our worship gatherings on July 15.

Our commitment to excellent Student Ministries is more important than ever as teenagers face an increasingly complex world amidst the already complex realities of adolescence. We must continually and earnestly reach out and pursue students with the same passion Jesus pursues them (and us!). We are hard at work putting together a plan for Junior High student ministries. Please join me in praying for our students, and specifically for a great leadership solution that cultivates a vibrant faith, hope and love among students in Huntington Beach.

Your mission-partner,

Peter Little, Lead Pastor
